PROFESSIONAL SKILLS

Project Editor

- I offered each team advice and guidance for each element for their multimedia project
- I allowed growth for each team to try something new especially when it came with audience engagement with the use of social media post and interactive infographics.
- I engaged in a line of communication with my team and my editors with certain items that need changing.
- I edited and proofread every element to make sure no spelling and fact errors occur.

Reporting

- I produced daily turn stories for the NPR-affiliate news station on a wide variety of topics.
- I worked on in-depth stories that required more than one interview with a source.
- I researched current event topics and made them relevant for my coverage area.

CAREER EXPERIENCE

THE CONVERSATION: INTERN

- I conducted surveys and interviewed individuals for a project on ways to give health information to those experiencing homelessness
- I assisted my editor on adding the correct links to stories and finding images to help illustrate the complex stories.
- I contacted professors to write articles for the website. This included vetting individuals to see if they were a good fit for our stories.
- On the executive board of Tau Kappa Epsilon Beta-Theta chapter
- Head of our philanthropy committee from 2017-2018 in Tau Kappa Epsilon where I organized events to raise money for St. Jude's Children Research Hospital

LEO WEEKLY - INTERN

- I reported on issues in the Louisville area with the biggest story being report on how to handle a controversial statue in the local park
- I edited every story on the issue the day before it was off to print, looking for corrections in AP Style and accuracy in dates of events.
- I contributed in the weekly staff picks to help advertise local events happening in the area.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Moving Ahead Program: November 2017 - current Coordinator

- I taught children from K-9 grade educational and behavioral lessons on a daily basis along with offering them a creative space to express themselves
- I solved problems when it came to disputes with the students
- I help plan and organize our classroom so it is up to code with the state.

Home Depot: May 2017 - July 2018 Sales Associate

- I helped load and select lumber for customers who needed help.
